MEET THE BUILDER, STEPHEN STARR

Ask anyone who has purchased a new home and they will tell you that while price, location, and amenities are important factors to consider, The most critical decision you will make is the builder you choose.

Steve Starr, founder of Starr Construction Inc. has committed to a rare, hands-on, personal approach when crafting new homes. He has spent more than twenty years learning the home building trade from the ground up. His education took place both in the field as a lead carpenter and in the classroom at Wentworth Institute of Technology in Boston. He gained a reputation for keeping his word and providing quality and value in his projects. Steve has broad experience in building, including major remodeling, multi-family rehabilitation, and single family construction.

In 1989, Steve recognized that the construction firm's owner is the ultimate decision maker who determines the value and long-term success of any project. He started Starr Construction Inc., "Builders & Developers of Quality Homes". Steve has dedicated himself to providing Metrowest residents with new homes that they can take pride in. He personally oversees the construction of each home. Steve knows that he is not just building another house; he is helping you create your dream home.

At Collin Farm, you will be working directly with Steve Starr, a builder who has chosen the road of personal service and quality rather than mass production. You won't just build a house; together you'll create a wonderful home of exceptional value, in a new neighborhood that you will be proud to call your own.
